Equity Research Note | TTMI | 22 OCTOBER 2026

AI PCB Pure Play

TTM Technologies screens as a Buy with a $105.88 blended target, about 41 percent above the current price. We rebuilt the model after Q3 FY2026, when sales reached a record $1.20B, up 60 percent year over year, and adjusted EBITDA margin passed 20 percent for the first time. Management raised full-year 2026 guidance and initiated a preliminary 2027 outlook that sits well above our forecast path.

Investment Thesis

AI PCB Pure Play. Data Center & Networking is 40% of sales growing 91% YoY. N+M asymmetric PCB technology entering volume production with $600M H2 revenue expected. Book-to-bill 1.49 [8-K Q2 2026]. Inflection in Profitability. Record $1.0B quarterly revenue (+37%), record non-GAAP EPS of $0.99, EBITDA margins expanding to 16.6%. FY25 net margin of 6.1% doubled from 2.3% [10-K FY25]. Mispriced Growth. At $75.25, NTM P/E is 11.9x with PEG of 0.36 for a company growing 37%. We now anchor the DCF to guided FY2026

The latest print

Inflection in Profitability. Record $1.0B quarterly revenue (+37%), record non-GAAP EPS of $0.99, EBITDA margins expanding to 16.6%. FY25 net margin of 6.1% doubled from 2.3%.

Mispriced Growth. At $75.25, NTM P/E is 11.9x with PEG of 0.36 for a company growing 37%. We now anchor the DCF to guided FY2026 revenue of approximately $4.4B (the Q2 2026 outlook in the 8-K Exhibit 99.1, which excludes pending acquisitions), and our $109.30 base sits above spot. The earnings multiple and the rebased DCF agree that the market underappreciates the trajectory.

The valuation uses a multi-year unlevered free cash flow DCF. The discount rate is the live CAPM rate: the 10-year Treasury yield plus beta times the market-implied equity risk premium. Terminal value is a Gordon perpetuity on terminal-year free cash flow.

Mechanics are explicit. The bridge runs revenue to EBIT to cash taxes, then adds back D&A and subtracts capex and working-capital investment to reach unlevered free cash flow. Targets are divided by diluted shares outstanding.

Agency risk score 48 of 100: balanced, typical corporate alignment

The score follows the website's Executive Alignment & Agency Risk model: insider ownership up to 40 points, open-market Form 4 flow over the trailing six months up to 30, and pay-for-performance up to 30. Insiders hold 1.80% of shares outstanding. Form 4 filings over the trailing six months show $1.64M of open-market purchases against $23.55M of sales, a net flow of -$21.91M. One-year total shareholder return is +74.9% against CEO total pay of $1.68M (Dr. Edwin Roks B.Sc., M.Sc., Ph.D.), which the model scores as PERFORMANCE EARNED.

The bear case

Cyclicality

PCB demand tracks electronics cycles; an AI capex pause would hit the data center segment hard.

M&A Execution

$1.1B Epiq acquisition adds integration and leverage risk.

Competition

Asian competitors compete on price; technology leadership (N+M) must be sustained.

The strengths

Operating Quality

Largest North American PCB manufacturer with A&D qualifications that take years to earn. Margins are thin for the industry (6% net) but improving. Cyclical end markets.

Recent Trend

Record quarterly revenue and EPS, +37% growth, book-to-bill 1.49, EBITDA margins expanding. Data center +91% YoY. Firing on all cylinders.

Forward Growth

N+M technology ($600M H2 revenue), 15-20% organic growth guided for 2027-28, Epiq acquisition adds new vectors. Multi-year AI infrastructure tailwind.

Valuation

At $75.25 vs $109.30 DCF base, the shares screen modestly below our rebased base case. NTM P/E 11.9x and PEG 0.36 are outright cheap for 37% growth, and the rebased DCF now agrees with the multiples. Market misprices the inflection.

Cascadia scorecard

Composite score 77: Attractive. Confidence High, as of 17-Oct-2026.

Investment view

A Q3 miss or N+M yield issues would cut Growth and Trend. Continued 30%+ growth with margin expansion supports a higher multiple.

Investment view: Buy. The shares fell about 26 percent on the print to $75.17, just above our $71.98 Bear case, even though Q3 FY2026 beat across the headline lines: sales of $1,203.9M rose 60 percent year over year, non-GAAP EPS was $1.46, adjusted EBITDA was $242.3M at a 20.1 percent margin, operating cash flow was $154.7M, and total book to bill was 2.13, with data center and networking revenue up 115 percent and aerospace and defense backlog at $2.0B. We now anchor the model to the raised full-year 2026 guide, sales of $4.47B to $4.49B with the midpoint at $4,480M, and we rebuilt the bridge from the September 28, 2026 balance sheet: cash of $876.3M against total debt of $1,643.9M, for net debt of $767.6M, on 107.7M diluted shares. Epiq closed on September 30 and took net leverage to 2.8x pro forma; management expects leverage back inside its 1.5x to 2.0x target range by the Ophir close, and we raised the model's cost of debt by 100 basis points to price the heavier floating-rate stack, which puts live WACC at 8.61 percent. Our scenario values are Bear $71.98, Base $109.30 and Bull $132.94, for a blended target of $105.88. The Base case offers about 45 percent upside from $75.17, so the Buy rests on Base case upside as well as on the momentum that carried the prior rating. One gap deserves plain statement. Management's preliminary 2027 guide, sales of $6.5B to $6.75B and non-GAAP EPS of $8.10 to $8.90, annualizes the Epiq and Swiss Technology Group contributions and sits about $1.52B above our Base path 2027 revenue of $5,107M. We have not chased it. If the acquired revenue annualizes at guided levels, that guide is the largest upside risk to our numbers.
