REIT cash machine funds the build. The 98% retention physical storage monopoly throws off inflation-protected cash that funds data center capex without excessive dilution. FY2026 AFFO guidance of $5.90 per share (+14%) covers the 3.1% dividend at a 62% payout ratio.

Market prices the melting ice cube. The reverse DCF shows the market implies only about 4% five-year AFFO growth, below our 6.5% base case. Our AFFO-based DCF values the base case at $125.41, implying 11.5% upside from $112.51.

The moat

Monopoly-grade physical storage: 98% retention rates on records management, an inflation-protected cash cow that funds data center expansion without excessive dilution.

The growth engine

Regulatory moratoriums act as a CAPEX moat; IRM marks new capacity to market at premium rates from a smaller base than DLR or EQIX, disproportionately boosting margins.

Three scenarios make the valuation range explicit

Three scenarios, weighted 25% / 50% / 25% into the blended target.

The valuation uses a multi-year unlevered free cash flow DCF. The discount rate is the live CAPM rate: the 10-year Treasury yield plus beta times the market-implied equity risk premium. Terminal value is a Gordon perpetuity on terminal-year free cash flow.

Mechanics are explicit. The bridge runs revenue to EBIT to cash taxes, then adds back D&A and subtracts capex and working-capital investment to reach unlevered free cash flow. Targets are divided by diluted shares outstanding.

The franchise deep dive

Monopoly-grade physical storage: 98% retention rates on records management, an inflation-protected cash cow that funds data center expansion without excessive dilution.

Regulatory moratoriums act as a CAPEX moat; IRM marks new capacity to market at premium rates from a smaller base than DLR or EQIX, disproportionately boosting margins.

Cross-selling 240,000+ customers across 61 countries (about 95% of the Fortune 1000) from physical storage into digital and ALM services.

Tuck-in M&A (recent Groupe ATF close) plus operational transformation including AI to drive further margin and revenue upside.

Data center REIT comps (DLR, EQIX)

Peer AFFO multiples under review

IRM trades at a hybrid multiple reflecting its storage mix; pure data center REITs command premiums IRM could grow into as digital scales.

AFFO per share: $4.54 (FY24) to $5.90 (FY26E)

Adj EBITDA margin: 36.4% to 37.1%

CASCADIA ANALYTICS

Consistent mid-teens AFFO growth with stable margins; the multiple has room to expand as the digital mix rises.

What to monitor

Nov 5, 2026. Q3 2026 earnings. Data center MW leasing momentum (75 MW signed in July alone) and progress on the 325 MW energization pipeline in focus.

Ongoing. Data center leasing announcements; scarcity pricing on newly stabilized digital assets as moratoriums constrain competing supply.

FY27. Energization of ~325 MW of data center capacity over 24 months; mix shift toward digital should structurally expand the blended EBITDA margin.

Agency risk score 36 of 100: high agency risk, the value-trap profile

The score follows the website's Executive Alignment & Agency Risk model: insider ownership up to 40 points, open-market Form 4 flow over the trailing six months up to 30, and pay-for-performance up to 30. Insiders hold 0.88% of shares outstanding. Form 4 filings over the trailing six months show $0 of open-market purchases against $35.50M of sales, a net flow of -$35.50M. One-year total shareholder return is +8.8% against CEO total pay of $3.55M (Mr. William L. Meaney BSc, MEng, MSIA), which the model scores as STANDARD CORPORATE.

CASCADIA ANALYTI

The bear case

Leverage and rate sensitivity

Total debt of $19.05B against a $33.5B market cap. As a REIT, the valuation is sensitive to the 10-year yield (5.10%); sustained high rates raise refinancing costs and compress the AFFO multiple.

Data center execution risk

Roughly 325 MW of data center capacity must be energized over 24 months, with $553M of growth capex spent in Q2 alone. Delays, cost overruns, or weak lease-up would hit both growth and margins.

Insider selling

CEO William Meaney sold 38,474 shares on October 1 (about $4.25M, a 50% reduction in his position) and EVP Greg Mcintosh sold 5,000 shares. Both were 10b5-1 planned sales, but the CEO halving his stake warrants attention.

Legacy storage decline

Physical records storage faces long-run secular decline; the thesis depends on 98% retention holding and the digital businesses scaling fast enough to more than offset any legacy erosion.

The strengths

PILLAR	RATIONALE	SCORE
Operating Quality	Monopoly-like physical storage (98% retention) generates inflation-protected cash that funds the data center build. 37%+ adjusted EBITDA margins with net lease leverage at 4.8x, the lowest since the 2014 REIT conversion. GAAP earnings are depressed by depreciation and are not meaningful for a REIT; AFFO is the true cash metric.	78
Recent Trend	Three consecutive quarterly beats (Q4 2025, Q1 and Q2 2026). Q2 revenue +18.5% YoY to $2.03B, AFFO per share +16% to $1.44. Growth businesses (data center, digital, ALM) collectively grew over 50% and now represent about 35% of revenue, up 750 bps YoY.	80
Forward Growth	Guidance raised across revenue, EBITDA, and AFFO in August. 110 MW leased year to date with 75 MW signed in July alone, and roughly 325 MW to be energized over 24 months. The digital mix shift should structurally accelerate the blended growth rate and margin.	78
Valuation	DCF base $125.41 vs $112.51 spot implies 11.5% upside. At 19.1x FY2026E AFFO of $5.90 the multiple is full but fair for a 15% AFFO grower; the 3.1% dividend yield is covered at a 62% payout. Street consensus sits higher at $139.83 (Moderate Buy).	62
Catalysts & Risk	Near-term catalysts in Q3 earnings and continued MW leasing. Key risks are the $19B debt load and REIT rate sensitivity, heavy data center growth capex, and notable insider selling (CEO sold half his position October 1, albeit under a 10b5-1 plan).	62

Investment view

A slowdown in MW leasing or a pause in the 325 MW energization pipeline would cut the growth case and the target. Sustained 50%+ growth-business momentum with EBITDA margins pushing toward 40% would support the Bull case and a rerating toward pure data center REIT multiples.

Investment view: Buy. The $123.87 blended target implies +10%, balancing the $94.25 / $125.55 / $150.14 Bear / Base / Bull outcomes.
